The featured trainers for the 2011 Hoop Prospects Summer Showcase will be former Chicago Bull & 3-time World Champion, Dickey Simpkins and Mike Lee, Founder & Owner, Lead Skill Development Trainer at Mike Lee Basketball.

Currently, Dickey Simpkins is the founder and head trainer of Next Level Performance (NLP). NLP is an exclusive personal basketball skills training company that helps student and professional athletes improve their basketball skills and reach the optimal level of conditioning and performance. Mike Lee is known throughout the country for individual player skill development. He has been a speaker at several events and has also recently authored several instructional workout DVDs including 25 Killer Scoring Moves Secrets of Unstoppable Shooting & Secrets of Unstoppable Guard Play.

All athletes will be measured in the five standard combine tests including 20 yard dash, vertical jump, long jump, weighted ball toss and shuttle run. Players will be evaluated by top coaches and skills trainers in two separate skills training sessions. In addition, each player will compete in 3-4 scrimmage games with equally balanced teams in the presence of top rating services, high school coaches and top AAU programs. This is a wonderful opportunity to be trained by the best, play with the best, compete against the best and, most importantly, show off your best!

Only 120 athletes will be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis. To register, please visit www.HoopProspects.com or contact us at 847-963-9600 or info@hoopprospects.com.
